Park limit bid ditched

PLANS to limit parking times at the Chipping car park in Wotton are to be dropped.

At a meeting on Monday, councillors unanimously abandoned a plan to restrict parking to three hours at the car park, which had been the subject of a recent consultation and received little public support. About 85 people responded, of the 3,500 motorists in the town.

Alex Wilkinson, chairman of the chamber of trade, said: "The chamber will continue to look for areas for new car parks in Wotton and we are doing that now."
